'REC' PROGRAM WILL CONCLUDE ON NEXT FRIDAY

Gettysburg's summer recreation program came to an end Friday for about 100 youngsters — the patrons of the "Tot Lots," while for the older children supervised play will end next Friday at the playgrounds.

Friday morning the children from four to eight watched a special cartoon movie program at the Keefeauver School as the concluding session of their summer playground period.

Next week most of the older children will take part in a Junior Olympics marking the end of their summer season. The Recreation Park will remain open until school reconvenes with supervisors present but the other playgrounds will close.

Recreation Director Chester Hilger said the regular teen-age dance at Recreation Park will not be held tonight because of the Jaycee Buddy Dean Hop at the College Dining Hall. The next recreation dance will be held at the regular time next week.

NORWEGIAN GIRL ARRIVES SUNDAY FOR YEAR HERE

Sixteen-year-old Mari Braaten of Norway is expected to arrive in Gettysburg Sunday afternoon by bus from New York for a year's stay here as Gettysburg High School's second foreign exchange student.

She will reside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy LeVan, Gettysburg R. 1, and expects to remain in Gettysburg until early next June.

Miss Braaten comes here under an arrangement with the American Field Service with the Gettysburg High School Student Council as the local sponsors. Under a similar set-up, Dietz Borowski came here from Bonn, Germany, a year ago and enrolled as a member of the senior class at Gettysburg High School. After graduation in June, he toured eastern U.S. with other foreign exchange students before sailing for Germany.

Has Studied English

The Norwegian girl is a native of Lofka, Norway, and attended Honefoss school. She has never been farther from home than Sweden but has studied English for four years and can speak German fairly well. She is the daughter of Ingeborg Laura Braaten, the widow of a farmer.

Her favorite sports are skiing and handball and she can play the piano "a little." She is a Girl Scout and has been particularly interested in the study of languages in school. Gettysburg High School students raised $800 through a Good Will Share plan and a record "hop" as sponsors of the foreign student.

Her scholastic status in the high school here will be determined after a conference with school officials and on the basis of her previous scholastic training.

In addition to the LeVans, Mari is expected to be met at the bus by high school student leaders. The time of her arrival is listed as 3:50 p.m.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate racketeers investigators sought details today of the hurry-up bargain sale of a Teamsters Union automobile reportedly used in Michigan's fatal human torch burning.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the special Senate committee ordered the probe Friday following testimony that the automobile was sold for no money down to Herman Kierdorf, uncle of the torch victim and former aide to Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

Kierdorf's nephew, Frank Kierdorf, 56, business agent for a Pontiac, Mich., Teamster local, died Thursday after indicating to police he suffered his burns in setting fire to a Flint, Mich., dry-cleaning shop Sunday night.

Uncle At Scene

Michigan authorities said the nephew also indicated his uncle, Herman, 68, was at the fire scene. The elder Kierdorf disappeared Monday and is sought on a warrant charging possession of a silencer-equipped gun.

Testimony on the sale of the union-owned Cadillac climaxed a fast-moving day in the committee's inquiry into allegations that Hoffa's giant union is involved with underworld characters in a nationwide plot to dominate business and labor. The hearings are in recess until Tuesday.

In other developments Friday: 1. George Francis Heid, a disgruntled former Teamster, testified that he had lied under oath — because of threats — as a defense witness in the 1956 Minneapolis trial that convicted one of Hoffa's aides on bombing charges.

Heid said he gave false evidence in an unsuccessful effort to save Gerald Connelly, a Minneapolis Teamster official, from going to prison.

Heid said Connelly engineered the dynamiting of one Teamster official's home and the car of another, but that Connelly warned him "he would have me taken care of" if Heid told this at the trial.

ROSE WILL SEEK SECOND WIN IN SWIMMING MEET

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Record-breaking Murray Rose today aims for his second victory in the Men's Senior National AAU outdoor swimming meet—but it might be a little difficult.

The 19-year-old Australian Olympic champion, now a freshman studying telecommunications at the University of Southern California, Friday smashed the National AAU mark in the 1,500-meter freestyle with a time of 18:06.4. The man he beat, George Breen of Indianapolis, had his 1957 record of 18:17.9 erased.

Rose, however, was far off Breen's official world's record of 17:52.9 set in the preliminaries of the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne. Rose defeated Breen in the finals then, and Friday's meeting was the first between the two since.

Far From Record
Neither is close to John Konrad's mark of 17:21.7 posted in Australia last February and up for world recognition.

Rose today tries for the national 200-meter freestyle record of 2:06.6. His main rival will be his Australian chum, Olympic 100-meter champion Jon Henricks. Henricks recently bettered the American record with 2:05.7.

Other finals in the meet, which ends Sunday, are the 200-meter breaststroke, 100-meter backstroke, 200-meter butterfly and 400-meter freestyle relay.

In other opening events Friday Gary Tobian of Los Angeles won the three-mile springboard diving championship, and Frank Brunell of Philadelphia, 20-year-old Indiana University student and lifeguard at the Broad Ripple Pool, scene of the meet, took the 400-meter individual medley in 6:20.6.

Brunell's time is an automatic national record because of a rule change in the breaststroke which makes it mandatory for a swimmer to stay on the surface instead of under it. The time also can be considered for world recognition.

DECIDE STATE LITTLE LEAGUE TITLE TODAY

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Bellefonte and Mid-Valley meet today for the state Little League title and the chance to represent Pennsylvania in the eastern regional tournament.

In the opening round of the single-elimination tournament Friday, Bellefonte beat Millercreek in a seven-inning contest, 5-2, and Mid-Valley went eight innings before beating Phoenixville, 7-2. The regular Little League game is six innings.

Rod Mitchell, Bellefonte's first baseman, brought in all five runs for his team. Mitchell broke up a scoreless pitchers' duel between Bellefonte's Gaffy Kellogg and Millercreek's Jim Kilpatrick in the fifth with a two-run single.

Two Clout Homers
Millercreek tied it up with home runs by Kilpatrick and outfielder Tris Moore in the sixth but Mitchell came back with a three-run homer in the seventh twin the game.

The clutch pitching of Armond Brunozi and heavy hitting saved the game for Mid-Valley. Phoenixville had the bases loaded with only one out when Brunozi took the mound in the seventh and struck out the next two batters. He also chalked up three strikeouts in the eighth.

Mid-Valley exploded for five runs in the eighth. Hitting home runs for Mid-Valley during the game were starting pitcher Tom Egnatovich in the third, outfielder Bob Cutura in the fourth, and catcher Bob Cicci and shortstop Bill Thinka in the eighth. Thinka's homer was a three-run blast.

Bellefonte 000 020 3-5 4 0
Millercreek 000 002 0-2 6 2

Mid-Valley 001 100 05-11 2

AUSSIES CAN'T CONTROL MEET

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—U. S. tennis bigwigs were breathing easier today because at least there will not be an all-Australian final in the Eastern Grass Court championships.

Either Mal Anderson, current holder of the U. S. championship, or Neale Fraser, another ace from Down Under, will be erased in the semifinal round today. That will leave one of the Aussies to fight it out with either U. S. Davis Cupper Hamilton Richardson or Alejandro Olmedo of Peru, who has resided in the U. S. so long he is eligible for the American cup team.

Ordinarily, Anderson would be favored over Fraser. But Neale was at his best Friday in knocking Dick Savitt, top-seeded and defending champion, 7-5, 9-7.

Anderson had an easier time with Ron Holmberg, one of America's young hopes, 6-3, 6-3, in the other quarter-final.

But Anderson and Fraser are in the same bracket, so instead of playing each other in the final, they'll go as it in the semifinal and one will be on the sidelines Sunday.

Althea Gibson and Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., will meet in the women's final. Miss Gib-

NASSER IN IRAQ
American Policies Based On Optimism; Nasser Will Chart Iraq's Program

TALL HEADLINES on United Nations and Summit have obscured the real trouble spot.

All the diplomatic froth of gloom and optimism notwithstanding (especially the optimism) the real problem remains in Iraq. It was transition of power in Iraq by assassination that put Anglo-American troops ashore in Lebanon and Jordan.

It was Nasser's inflammatory propaganda coordinated with his skill at conspiracy that achieved this most ruthless and smoothest seizure of power in modern times.

Thus, the problem is in Iraq; not at the Summit.

IN GIVING formal recognition to the power usurpers in Iraq, the United States and Great Britain have obviously embraced the optimistic hope that nothing of major importance has happened there. That country will continue in the Baghdad Pact, they hope. It will be business as usual through the oil pipelines.

From this optimism there is already wide speculation as to the early date when the Marines will come home and British troops are recalled from Jordan.

THIS OPTIMISM is sustained by a line of logic more or less as follows:

(1) The old regime in Iraq was at best a benevolent despotism. The new regime does clothe itself in the garments of a constitutional republic. This could be better for the West.

(2) Among Arabian and Moslem peoples the acquisition of power through assassination is as normal as change of administration by ballot among Anglo-Saxon peoples. Thus what recently happened in Iraq is just an old Arabian custom and Americans should not be shocked by it.

(3) In the same way that membership in the Baghdad Pact and cooperation with the West best served the economic interests of Iraq under the old regime, the same forces will prompt the new regime to follow through along the same lines.

(4) Therefore, the West should immediately kiss the usurpers with prompt recognition and court their favor with the same enthusiasm and happy results that were achieved with the old monarchy.

This is the school of thought that England and America have followed to date. This is the sort of thinking that prompts much talk of early withdrawal of troops.

A PESSIMISTIC school of thought offers different logic. At times it is more convincing of the two.

(1) To date Iraq's new regime has merely played a cagey game of silence while it consolidates itself in power.

(2) As much as possible it has suppressed the truth with reference to the savage excesses with which it seized the machinery of state.

(3) It has made neither commitments nor promises in return for recognition.

(4) The situation has all the earmarks of duplicity and the kind of deceit that has become associated with Nasser's leadership in the Middle East.

THE BIG MAN in Iraq, the pessimists insist, is not the previously unknown Brigadier Abdul Karim el-Kassem.

The name that is on the tongues of all is that of Colonel Nasser of Egypt. As the self appointed and self-proclaimed leader of all the Arabs, he is viewed as the true liberator.

Indeed, at least one close observer insists Brigadier Abdul Karim el-Kassem will last as a front man for Nasser and his machinations only so long as it serves Nasser's purposes. In this a close parallel is drawn between the brigadier and the front role of Major General Naguib in Nasser's rise to power in Egypt.

EGYPT'S NASSER is credited with having written the new constitution of Iraq. That he created the secret cells within the Iraq army that accomplished the coup is admitted by all.

Those who see Iraq slipping away from the West say that two of Nasser's henchmen, Sadiq Shanshal, minister of guidance, and Colonel Abdul Salam Aref, deputy premier, are the true holders of power in the new regime.

In short, any apparent honeymoon that may now exist between the new regime in Iraq and the West is based upon Nasserism and deceit. The pessimists thus predict it will end the day the Marines come home.

Between these two conflicting views born of optimism and pessimism, each reader may take his own choice. Insofar as the historical past, however, projects itself into the future, it seems that the pessimists have the better case as of now, reluctant though one is to take such a view of the present tide of events in the Middle East.

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—"Sorry," the judge told pretty Jerry Sue Bradley, "you can't be a deputy sheriff until you're 21."

Jerry Sue waited—for a week—until her birthday. Then she advanced on County Judge Cam Smith again.

This time he swore her in as Harlan County's first lady deputy sheriff. It was the answer to the girl's lifelong dream.

Tall, blonde Miss Bradley will operate a new two-way radio system for the sheriff's department. She'll carry a 38-caliber revolver if she chooses and will have the same authority as other deputies.

"Most of all I'm proud of my badge," she told Judge Smith. The judge, after swearing her in, admonished: "Keep your powder dry."

Calhoun should know. He hit the deck four times and was staggered several more times in losing a lop-sided 10-round decision to the under-rated Armstrong at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

It was the rangy, shifty Armstrong's 15th and most important triumph in a three-year pro career. It moved him high up among the middleweight contenders and put him in line for some good money shots.

Wants More Action
"We'll fight any of the contenders who want to fight for the title," said Manager Willie Robinson. Armstrong nodded in assent.

"That goes for Carmen Basilio, Gene Fullmer, Spider Webb, Joe Giardello, Joey Giambra or any of them," added Robinson.

Calhoun had the punching reputation but it was the classy boxing Armstrong who furnished the fight fireworks. He decked Rory for six in the first round, for counts of two in the second and fourth, and for three in the ninth. Calhoun received the mandatory eight count each time.

Armstrong, 26-year-old ex-GI from Elizabeth, N.J., has stopped only one rival—Eddie Thompson—and that was a technical knockout on eye cuts. He has insisted he could punch well but hadn't proved it until Friday night.

"Pours It On"
In the ninth, Armstrong poured it on his heavier rival for almost the full three minutes. Calhoun, who outweighed his foe 160 1/2 to 154, rocked Armstrong with a right to the head in the eighth but couldn't follow up.

The officials had Armstrong the winner by the following scores: Referee Al Berl, 7-2-1, Judge Artie Aidaia, 7-3, and Judge Nick Gamboli, 6-3-1. The AP card had Armstrong ahead, 7-3.

Calhoun suffered his fifth defeat. The 23-year-old White Plains, N.Y., contender has won 35.

Woke up, mom. Wake up, he said. "Let's have lunch."

But Mrs. Peggy Thomas, 36, was dead. Police said she had committed suicide by taking an overdose of sleeping pills.

Last month she had filed a complaint of desertion and nonsupport against the children's father, William Thomas, claiming he left her nine months ago.

To help make ends meet, Mrs. Thomas moved from nearby Ocean Township to a more modest home here. Last Thursday she told police she learned her husband had taken a job as a bookkeeper with a Camden firm and police said they'd look into it.

They were still trying to find him today. A sister of Mrs. Thomas was caring for his children meanwhile.

Twenty-five Cincinnati Redlegs voted for Willie Mays to start as National League center fielder in the All Star game. One Redleg voted for Richie Ashburn of the Phillies.

Today's Talk

YOU HAVE SOMETHING

If you have never read Emerson's essay on "Self-Reliance" you should not let another day go by without doing so. It is in itself a sufficient textbook for success.

I have read and re-read this great work for years, yet every time I pick it up I gain new inspiration. Just take these few sentences:

"A man should learn to detect and watch that gleam of light which flashes across his mind from within, more than the lustre of the firmament of stars and sages. Yet he dismisses without notice his thought, because it is his. In every work of genius we recognize our own rejected thoughts: they come back to us with a certain alienated majesty."

My friend, you have something! Find out what it is. Maybe it is a great idea, an original thought that will revolutionize the day in which you live, some ability to inspire countless numbers.

Find out what it is—and then start giving it to the world. For no matter what you have, if you keep it it will shrink your soul. The only way a fine mind or character grows is by radiating.

You have something, my friend. Feed it. Develop it. Then give it away!

Again back to Emerson: "Insist on yourself; never imitate. Your own gift you can present every moment with the cumulative force of a whole life's cultivation; but of the adopted talent of another you have only an extemporaneous, half-possession. That which each can do best, none but his Maker can teach him."

You have something. Find out what it is.

Just Folks

HE DOESN'T MEAN IT

I tell myself when golf I play
And see my shots all go astray.
That could I play the course in par
With drives that always travel far
And putts that always sink the ball,
I shouldn't care to play at all.

I soothe my irritated soul
When I have lost all self-control.
By saying to myself that could
I claim perfection with the wood
And play an accurate game each day.

Then I should never care to play.

Perhaps, if splendid skill were mine
And all my shots were on the line,
If I could make that golf ball do
The things I really want it to,
Perhaps, I'd quit the game for good;
But that's the bunk—I never would.

Captain Adam Black And Family

By B. F. M. MacPherson

The notes on the family of Captain Adam Black, soldier of the American Revolution, whose grave is located in Black's Graveyard (Presbyterian Church of Upper Marsh Creek), are continued at this time.

Adam Black was the son of Robert Black and his wife, Sarah Malachai. Robert Black, in turn, was the son of John Blacks who was the child of Robert Black and his wife, Ann, of Letterkenney, Donegal County, Ireland. Robert Black, came to America with his parents about 1736. It is not known whether Robert Black was married before or after he emigrated to Pennsylvania. However, the birth of his first child, Susan Black, could not have been later than 1736, as Colonel Moses McClean was born here January 1, 1737, and Susan Black has always been traditionally known as the first child born in the Marsh Creek Settlement. It would seem that the baby girl was born soon after her parents settled on what was then the extreme western frontier.

Robert and Sarah (Malachai) Black were the parents of eight children, as follows:

1. Susan Black intermarried with John McNutt.
2. James Black intermarried with Margaret Birney.
3. Robert Black intermarried with Mary Hosack.
Buried in Family Plot
Note: — John Hosack, the father of Mary Hosack, wife of Robert Black, is buried in the Black family plot in Black's Graveyard. His grave is marked and the inscription on the stone can still be deciphered.

4. Margaret Black intermarried with Thomas Gilchrist.

5. Adam Black intermarried with Sarah Boyd.
Note: — The Boyd family burial plot is located immediately north of that of the Black family in Black's Graveyard.

6. John Black married a widow (name not known) and in so doing acquired five stepchildren.
Note: — There is the will of a John Black, of Cumberland Township, York (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania, on file in the York County Courthouse, which may refer to the John Black mentioned above. In this document, which was written February 17, 1750 and entered to probate April 25, 1750, John Black mentions the following members of his family:

1. "Well beloved daughter, Mary Black, to receive her deceased Mother's clothes."
2. Son — William Black.
3. Son — John Black.
4. Son — James Black.
5. Son — Matthew Black.

6. "My two youngest sons, James and William Black, are to receive and extra five pounds."

7. "My sons, William and James Black, are to be bound to Robert Black. The rest of my children are to be taken care of out of my estate."

The seventh child of Robert and Hugh Black, this son married but the name of his wife is not known.

8th Child Never Married
The eighth and youngest child was Matthew Black, who never married.

HARNEY—Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Ridinger celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Varner of Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Dorn attended the anniversary also.

Mr. and Mrs. James Welty, Mrs. Gertrude Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vaughn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vaughn and family, Mrs. Theodore Ridinger and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wantz and William Vaughn the past week.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Moose were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moose and sons, of Richmond, Va.; Chief and Mrs. Vincent E. Brewer and daughter, of Lexington Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Moose and daughters of Littlestown, R. I.

few records were kept and even those were often lost and therefore never published or recorded. It seems odd, to say the least, that he did not follow the example of his brothers, if such be the case.

Robert, the third child and second son of Robert and Sarah (Malachai) Black, died December 24, 1824. He is buried in Black's Graveyard in an unmarked grave in the family burial plot. His wife was Margaret, the daughter of John Hosack.

Born in Mummaburg
Adam, the fifth child and third son of Robert and Sarah (Malachai) Black, was born at Mummaburg, York (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania, in 1750. He was married in 1774 to Sarah, the daughter of Andrew Boyd, of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Sarah (Body) Black is buried beside her husband in Black's Graveyard and the inscription from the stone marking her grave is as follows:

"In Memory of Sarah Black
wife of Adam Black.
Born March 9, 1759.
Died June 9, 1842.
Aged 83 years
and three months."

Adam and Sarah (Body) Black were the parents of the following children:

1. Robert Black — born February 18, 1775 — died December 24, 1834 — married Elizabeth Barnes.

Ford Blanks Red Sox For Seventh Shutout; Orioles Are Beaten By Washington

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Whitey Ford is sailing along with the best earned run average in the majors since Spud Chandler in 1943. The New York Yankees' chunky left-hander posted his seventh shutout Friday night, lowering his ERA to 1.06.

Actually, Ford could just as well have eight shutouts at this time. He voluntarily left an early season game after seven innings with an 8-0 lead. Although his relief man blanked Washington the rest of the way, it doesn't count as a shutout. The Yankees' club record is eight shutouts set by Russell Ford (no relation) in 1910.

Chandler led the American League 15 years ago with a 1.64 ERA. The lowest in the National in 25 years was Carl Hubbell of the Giants with 1.66 in 1933.

Ford's 14th victory shutout the Boston Red Sox 16½ games behind the league leaders who continue to march toward the earliest clinching date in history. Without Ted Williams, who was out of action with a sprained left wrist, Boston had no punch. The Sox succumbed weakly 2-0 with only three hits. Two came in the fourth but a double play followed Pete Runnels' single and Jackie Jensen was cut down trying to stretch a double into a triple.

Washington sunk Baltimore 4-2, the Orioles' 11th straight defeat, a new high for the majors this season. Dick Hyde, a key figure in more than half of the Senators' victories, saved the day in relief of winner Russ Kemmerer in the eighth. It was his 15th successful relief job, plus nine victories on his own.

Indians Down A's
Cleveland broke loose with six runs in the third inning for a 10-4 romp over Kansas City. Don Ferrarese took over for Jim Grant with two out in the fifth and blanked the A's the rest of the way. It was his first victory of the year.

Frank Lary pitched himself out of one jam after another and went the route to beat Chicago despite 14 White Sox hits. Al Kaline and Charlie Maxwell each drove in a pair of runs in Detroit's 6-2 victory.

Pete Runnels held tight to the American League batting lead with one hit in three official trips against Ford for a .335 average. Whitey struck out six and walked four, snapping Boston's five-game winning streak.

The Yanks scored enough to beat El Delock in the first inning on Hank Bauer's single and Tony Kubek's hit and run double. They added the second run in the eighth off Bud Byerly who had pitched 11 shutout innings on relief since he joined the Red Sox.

Roy Sievers and Jim Lemon each had two hits in Washington's attack on Hal Brown and two successors. Both Baltimore runs, including Gus Triandos' 21st homer, came off Kemmerer.

Ned Garver of the A's was the victim of Cleveland's big splurge in the third inning, losing his eighth.

MIDDLECOFF, HARNEY LEAD $35,000 OPEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Only six strokes separated the 27 low scorers today as the third round of the Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament under a $35,000 grab-bag—got under way at the Tripoli Golf Club.

At the head of the pack, with 9-under-par 131 in 36 holes, were 37-year-old Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood, Fla., and 29-year-old Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass.

Pegged at 137, within easy striking distance of the co-leaders, were Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., J. C. Goosie of Knoxville, Tenn., and Bill Collins of Baltimore.

In between were such par-busters and Gary Player of Johannesburg, South Africa, at 132; Jim Turnesa of Elmsford, N.Y.; Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex.; and Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., at 133.

The 134 bracket included the names of Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich.; Billy Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., while those at 135 included defending champion Ken Venturi of San Francisco, Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Jackie Burke Jr., of Klamath Lake, N.Y.; and Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa.

Despite a pesky cross-wind, 35 pros finished with subpar rounds Friday. Few, however, bettered their first-round scores because of the 15 to 20 m.p.h. wind.

Harney needed six-foot birdie putts on the 17th and 18th greens to match Middlecoff's 36-hole total. The long-hitting New Englander, still seeking his first tournament triumph of the tour, had a 35-33-66 to go with his opening 63.

Middlecoff followed up Thursday's 67 with a 39-64, thanks to seven birdies. That 64 tied him with Casper for the best round of the day.

Gettysburg Softball Loop

The News Agency romped off with a double victory Friday evening beating Hess Antiques 3-1 in the opener and outslugging Table Rock 13-12 in the windup.

The first game, one of the best this season, was a tight duel between opposing pitchers with Bartholomew having a shade the best of it. The second game was a free scoring affair as Bartholomew again hurled for the News Agency but tired and was replaced by McGaughlin in the fourth inning with the score tied at 10-10. The latter held on until the victors clinched the game in the 8th inning.

The double win pulls the News Agency even with Hess in fourth place.

BRITAIN LEADS FOR CURTIS CUP

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Britain's determined veterans held a 2-1 lead over the United States in defense of golf's coveted Curtis Cup today with six 36-hole match tests set for the windup of the two-day classic.

The feature of the individual match play sent Mrs. George Valentine, a three-time British champion against Joanne Gunderson, the 19-year-old American titlist. Britain's hopes of retaining the cup were given a big boost Friday as Mrs. Angela Bonalack and Elizabeth Price withstood blistering heat and heavy pressure for the key victory.

Experienced partners in four-some matches based on alternate hitting, they pulled from behind for a 2 and 1 triumph over Polly Riley and Barbara Romack, America's only Cup veterans.

That broke a deadlock and sent their team into the lead. And only twice in the previous nine Curtis Cup matches has the foursome match leader been overtaken.

Francis Robertson and Mrs. Jeanette Smith earned the other British point by defeating Miss Gunderson and Anne Quast 3 and 2.

The United States scored as Barbara McIntire of Lake Park, Fla., and Mrs. Ann Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, trounced Mrs. Valentine and Bridget Jackson 6 and 5.

Emmitsburg failed to show at Cashtown for their scheduled game Friday night and as a result the game will be rescheduled later. According to league rules there are no forfeits under circumstances such as these but the league will require Emmitsburg to post forfeit money that the game will be played at a later date.

LITTLE LEAGUERS WIN TWIN BILL IN WASHINGTON

A group of Gettysburg Little Leaguers, making a post season tour around the Washington area, made an excellent showing Friday afternoon when they captured both ends of a doubleheader from Lamond winning the first game 5-1 and taking the nightcap 8-5 at Lamond Park, Washington.

Manager Fred Baker of the regular season Lions took his regular outfit plus Tommy Collins and John Longanecker of the Rotary and Rick Jones of the Bream's on the weekend tour. The team had a scheduled doubleheader yesterday and this afternoon meets a team from Indian Head, Md., on the opponents' diamond.

The players stayed with members from the Lamond team over the night and left for Indian Head this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

In the opening game Friday Tommy Collins went the distance on the mound, giving up five hits, striking out six and allowing three walks to register the win. Blanker hurried for Lamond and is charged with the loss.

Lamond got their only run in the bottom of the first while Gettysburg came back with one in the second, another in the third and led the game in the fourth with two runs and another in the fifth.

Dan King, Gettysburg right fielder, paced the winners attack with a pair of safeties. Higdon belted the same number of hits for the home team. There were no extra base hits.

In the second game, trailing 3-0 after two, Gettysburg came up with six big runs in the top of the third and added their final two scores in the fourth. Lamond went on to tally one run in the third and fourth.

Eddie Tilberg was the big man in the second contest with a trio of safeties for four trips to the plate. Wolk hit the same number for Lamond. Collins blasted a pair of doubles for the winners while Longanecker drilled a triple to deep left for Gettysburg. Wolk doubled and tripled for the losers.

Longanecker went the distance for the Bakermans striking out 11 batters, walking four and giving up eight hits. Charlie Athanas went all the way for Lamond, striking out five and walking the same number.

This afternoon, manager Baker will probably send Doug Appier to the mound against Indian Head.

Littlestown Minor League Opens Series
The Littlestown Minor Leaguers will get their opportunity to play in a series before the Little League managers, it was announced today by Ed Leister.

All of the minor league players are to report to the Little League diamond Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Besides the minor leaguers, all 8, 9, and 10-year-olds from the Giants and Vets Little League teams are to report to the field also. From these players, four teams will be made up and games will be scheduled next week for these four squads.

The purpose for the minor league games is to give the regular Little League players a post season look at players who will be eligible to play next year. For this reason it is important that every minor league player report for the games.

Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Bob Giallombardo won 21 games for Reno, Nev., in the California League in 1957. He had four shutouts among 21 complete games.

The American League holds a 15-10 edge in All-Star games.

Expect To Disband Coast Conference This Weekend

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference will be dissolved here this weekend, says Glenn T. Seaborg, chancellor of the University of California.

What will that mean? For one thing, said Seaborg, a new athletic alliance will be formed—one that is smaller, patterned after the Ivy League and based upon a gentlemen's agreement.

"I think the conference will be disbanded," said Seaborg. "The intentions of all the faculty representatives are to dissolve it."

The meeting to put the 43-year-old conference quietly to sleep began today. The meeting, as usual, was closed to the public and press.

5 In Conference
Five of the nine Pacific Coast schools are in the new conference. Seaborg said. Those schools, he said, are California, UCLA, Southern California, Washington and Stanford.

"Oregon State certainly has not been involved in our considerations," Seaborg added. Nor, he said, are Oregon, Washington State or Idaho being considered.

Seaborg said the schools will police themselves, and will not be filled with extravagant aid to athletes.

Emmett Moore of Washington State, which will be one of the PCC orphans, said "I suspect that the conference will be disbanded. One

BUILDING AND FARM

Hot Weather Is Ideal For Outbreaks Of Pinkeyes In Cattle Hers, Says Zettle

By FRANK S. ZETTLE

Hot summer weather affords ideal weather for pinkeye outbreaks in cattle herds. The exact cause of the disease has not been determined, but most researchers agree that a virus is probably responsible. This apparently makes it possible for secondary infections to attack the surface of the eye.

The disease is characterized by local inflammation of the surface of one, or both eyes, of affected cattle. The first symptom seen is a profuse watering of the eyes. The cheeks soon become tear-stained. Swelling of the eyelids and a pink spot in the middle of the eye, or a pink ring surrounding the white part soon develops. The disease may produce ulcers on the eye surface and deeper damage with permanent blindness in its advanced stages.

The value of early treatment cannot be over-emphasized. Animals treated the first day they show symptoms usually recover in a few days. Antibiotic sprays or powders are widely used for treatment for this disease. They are valuable for preventing secondary infections and in speeding recovery. Routine treatment of beef cattle is often difficult when a cattle chute is not available. Plans for a cattle chute are available in the Agricultural Extension office, and specialists agree that every beef cattle farm in Pennsylvania would profit by building a good chute.

Flies Carry Disease

Flies may be responsible for carrying the disease; regular spraying to control flies will help control its spread. Separate affected animals immediately. Make sure they are able to find food and water if they are badly affected. Young beef calves often are unable to find their mothers. Keep affected cattle in a darkened stable during hot, sunny weather. Wind and dust greatly aggravate pinkeye problems. There is wide difference of opinion as to whether injection of a mixed bacteria has value. There are no specific bacteria or vaccines available for treatment. Good management will air treatment and help control the spread of this trouble some cattle disease. Without good management and prompt treatment, good cattle may be ruined, except for beef.

For many years Pennsylvania farmers have been confronted with either abnormally wet or dry summers. This wet spring and summer presents problems that can occur almost any year.

Dairymen who started making grass silage early in the season when the forage was high in feeding value, are in an enviable position for the barn-feeding period. Some of these farmers complete silo filling in time to make some good hay before the heaviest rains began. Roughage quality on these farms will be considerably higher than on those where very little, if any, grass silage was made.

Harvesting the bulk of first cutting forage as grass silage also has its advantages during a dry summer. Early removal of the crop allows for growth of second-cutting forage during a period when some rainfall is most likely and soil moisture may not be depleted.

The early-cut grass silage also makes excellent roughage for supplementing drought-stricken pastures. Silos may be refilled later with corn ensilage and other crops, such as rye, field brome, or sudan grass.

It is largely because of these frequently extreme in weather conditions that most farmers should have sufficient silo capacity to ensile their entire first-cutting of forage. Part of this silo capacity can be in the form of trenches or above ground, bunker silos for emergency use; after ensiling a considerable portion of the first-cutting, the remainder can be made into hay on some farms if weather permits.

Small Grains Extend Pasture

If such a program were followed on more dairy farms, fewer cows would have to be content with badly weathered or over-ripe hay this winter. Remember, first cutting forage supplies 50 to 65 per cent of the roughage early and prevent as much weathering as possible.

Small grains, rye, wheat or barley, can be used to stretch the pasture season this fall and again next spring.

Rye, either Balbo or Tetra Petkus, has yielded more forage than either wheat or barley. Total seasonal yields for the two rye varieties have been similar, with over 3 tons of dry matter per acre.

However, although Tetra Petkus outyielded Balbo in fall production, Balbo was the heavier yielding during the spring grazing season.

Dual, a new variety of wheat recently recommended in Pennsylvania, also shows promise for pasture. Resistant to Hessian fly, this variety can be planted early for fall and spring pasture and can be harvested for grain.

Small grains for pasture can be planted throughout Pennsylvania any time after early August and

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE

The Associated Press

Painting an ordinary plaster wall is about as simple and uncomplicated as waxing a floor. But there are several "problem" surfaces around a house that require special care.

should be ready for grazing 6-7 weeks after planting.

In general one acre of small grain pasture for each four mature animals to be grazed has been about right. Three bushels of seed per acre will assure a heavy stand.

When grown for pasture, it's best to fertilize small grains liberally. Drill deeply about 400 pounds of 10-10-10 or equivalent prior to seeding, and apply about 200 pounds 0-20-0 or 5-10-10 at time of seeding. Recent research has indicated serious seed injury when large quantities of high analysis fertilizer were drilled with the seed. Additional nitrogen can be applied in early spring to increase spring production.

Research has also shown that when properly managed and fertilized, small grain can be grazed and still be harvested for grain with little or no reduction in grain yield.

Annual field broomgrass has also proved satisfactory for grazing in Pennsylvania studies. Used primarily as a winter cover crop, this species yields well in both fall and spring and produces an excellent sod for plowing under. Domestic ryegrass had yielded somewhat less forage and in addition winter-killed when heavily fall grazed.

In any painting job, though, there are rules to be followed—and these apply to both simple and "problem" surfaces:

(1) Be sure the surface is clean, dry and free of oil and grease.

(2) Glossy surfaces should be roughed up with sandpaper to give the new paint a chance to adhere properly.

(3) Metal surfaces, which are to be exposed to moisture, should have an anti-corrosive priming coat before finishing coats are applied.

(4) And, finally, read the directions on the label of paint cans. They should be followed carefully.

Here are a few "problem" surfaces and some suggestions for painting them:

Asbestos-Cement

The problem here is that the alkali in this product may combine with oil in paint and form a soluble soap, endangering paint adhesion. All paints used over asbestos cement therefore should be alkali resistant.

Several methods for painting asbestos-cement surfaces are recommended. (1) Two coats of rubber-based paint will do the job. This paint commonly is known as swimming pool or masonry paint. (2) Satisfactory results also have been obtained by using a solvent-thinned rubber resin paint as a first coat or primer, followed by a conventional oil or alkyd resin-based topcoat. This paint often is sold as asbestos shingle primer. (3) A third satisfactory method consists of two coats of exterior latex emulsion paint.

As in the case of asbestos-cement, the problem here is the alkali in the concrete. And here again, the solvent rubber derivative paints are excellent, as are the latexes. For exterior use, be sure to use exterior latex. Portland cement paints are especially good for concrete, and the damper the surface the better they cure.

Galvanized Metal

As a rule, ordinary paints will not adhere to galvanized surfaces. There are special zinc dust and zinc oxide paints designed for galvanized surfaces and they do an excellent job.

Fir Plywood

Because of the unevenness of the grain, irregular absorption of paint or varnish is a problem here. Best results can be obtained by using one of the penetrating resin sealer-undercoaters especially made for interior plywood. After this coat has been applied, dried and sanded, any suitable finishing coat may be used.

Glass

Occasionally, someone wants to paint glass doors, windows or skylights for decorative purposes or to reduce the transmission of light or heat. Most oil or alkyd paints are suitable for use on glass.

The one thing to be beware of, though, is the use of black or other dark colors which prevent the transmission of light by absorbing it rather than reflecting it. Absorbed light is changed to heat — and absorbed sunlight could develop temperatures which crack glass.

The answer is to use lighter colored paints which reflect heat, instead of absorbing them, even though thicker coatings are required.

Aluminum

Aluminum does not rust but it does form a dull oxide that obscures its metallic newness; it also can pit under certain conditions. If weathered aluminum is to be painted, it should be brushed free of dirt and loose oxide, primed with a metal primer (if weather conditions are severe) and then painted with an exterior metal enamel.

New aluminum, if it is to be painted, should be cleaned with a compound containing phosphoric acid and a grease remover before painting. If it is desired to keep the original brightness, exterior lacquers of clear exterior varnishes can be used although, being without pigment, they may have to be renewed annually.

ABBOTTSTOWN — Mrs. Addie Landis, of York, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Norman Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moul are vacationing at Wildwood, N. J.

Kathy Kraft, Levittown, is visiting her grandfather, Amos Kuhn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berkheimer and daughters, Linda and Susan, and Betsy Hollinger and Darlene Baker are spending several days at Ocean City, N. J.

S/Sgt. and Mrs. Ryno E. Miller and family, LaFeria, Texas, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Miller. They will return to Wright Patterson, Dayton, Ohio.

Firemen Meet
A regular meeting of the Abbottstown Fire Company was held Tuesday evening attended by 22 members.

The main discussion held was in connection with the recent carnival. A detailed report was presented by the general chairman, Rodger Wildasin, showing the expenses and receipts of each concession at the affair.

A detailed report of the receipts of the entire carnival was given by H. Crawford, treasurer. This report showed that the gross receipts were $2,598.36, exclusive of the solicitation from the community which amounted to $1,067.95. Carnival invoices in the amount of $1,052.75 were presented and approved, as were current bills amounting to $432.

The annual report to the county association was discussed and showed a membership of 228 members, for whom the annual dues have to be paid.

May Drop Carnival
The company has decided to have the fire siren removed from atop the feed company warehouse, to a steel tower mounted in the fire hall. The chief and his committee will be in charge of the work, which will be completed at the earliest possible date.

Some plans were announced to discontinue the annual carnival and put on a well-planned fund gathering campaign in another year. Several of the committee chairman felt that this change must be made because fewer members each year are willing to help during the week's event.

The company was requested by county officials to appoint two of the younger firemen to attend classes at Gettysburg to take courses in fire-fighting, to be conducted this fall in connection with the civil defense. President Leib is requesting volunteers before making any appointments.

Chief D. Hafer stated that some delay was encountered in getting the tank truck into service by August 1, as he previously promised, but he reports that the work of changing over to the tank service will be completed within the next two weeks. He also reported that no fire calls were answered during the last month.

Novelist J. P. McEvoy Dies Friday In N. Y.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (AP) — J. P. McEvoy, 64, novelist, playwright and poet, died Friday at his home. McEvoy, who had been ill for several months, died of a stroke. With him at his bedside were his wife and four children.

McEvoy had been a roving editor for Reader's Digest magazine for 20 years.

He wrote at least 10 Broadway plays and revues, beginning with "The Pottery" in 1923 and ending in 1939 with "Stars in Your Eyes."

He also wrote radio and television scripts and the story line of the comic strip, "Dixie Dugan."

HOUSE PASSES EDUCATION BILL WITH CHANGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.) said today he will push his 1 1/2-billion-dollar education bill now that the House has passed a smaller measure stripped of college scholarship provisions.

The House sent a $10-million-dollar bill to the Senate by voice vote late Friday after rejecting 233-140 a move to shelve it. Before final passage, the House knocked out the scholarship section, shifting its funds to a student loan program.

However, advocates of federal aid to education were encouraged by the House vote. They said it was the first time the House had accepted a broad education aid bill.

There seems little doubt the Senate will vote at least some scholarship money when the bill comes up there, probably Monday or Tuesday. If so, the House and Senate differences on this issue will have to be worked out in conference.

Many Republican senators were prepared to support scholarship funds, although not to the extent provided in the Hill bill.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming said Friday night he hoped the Senate would include competitive scholarships in its measure.

Slash Scholarships
As the bill came to the House floor, it provided for about 23,000 four-year college scholarships in each of the four years of the program. The Hill bill carries the same total.

House backers at first accepted an amendment cutting the 23,000 scholarships to 10,

THOUSANDS SEE OBERAMMERGAU OF U. S. YEARLY

By HAROLD S. MILNER
SPEARFISH, S.D. (AP)—Each year, hundreds of thousands of persons — religious or just plain curious — make a pilgrimage to what has been called the American Oberammergau.

The event is the Black Hills Passion Play, the story of Jesus' last week on earth presented three weekly from June through August in Spearfish and from January through Easter in Lake Wales, Fla.

Since it was first staged in 1932, the Black Hills Passion Play has been presented about 5,000 times and has been witnessed by more than five million persons.

Attendance Mounting
The steadily mounting attendance is gratifying to Josef Meier, a German immigrant who brought the play to the United States in the depths of the depression and many times saw the cast outnumber the audience.

Meier, who has portrayed Christ in the production several thousand times, says it's faith that holds his small interdenominational troupe together. Often he has seasoned short rations with the admonition: "The important thing is that they (the audience) go home with the story of Jesus."

The Black Hills Passion Play is a slightly modernized version of one presented for centuries in Germany. Embellishments include delicate lighting and the realism of three camels, numerous horses, donkeys, a flock of white fantailed pigeons, stirring organ music and a select chorus.

THOUSANDS SEE FIREMEN MARCH AT LITTLESTOWN

One of the largest parades ever held in Littlestown in connection with the annual carnival of the Alpha Fire Company moved over the lower Adams County town's streets Friday evening and was seen by several thousands of persons who lined the parade route. Many of the throng followed the column to the carnival grounds which remained crowded until nearly midnight.

Burnell R. Keagy, of the Parade committee, announced the winners of the $500 offered as prize money to the various participating units. The Hanover Fire Department was awarded the first prize of $100 for the best uniformed fire company or department in line with 25 or more men with band or drum corps. They were accompanied by the Harold H. Blair Post American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, also of Hanover, who received the first prize of $75 for the best appearing drum corps.

Second prize of $60 for the best uniformed fire company or department in line with 25 or more men with musical accompaniment went to the McSherrystown Fire Company. Their musical organization was "The Starlighters," the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps of Westminster, who received second prize of $50 for the best appearing drum corps.

Other winners

There was no competition for the prize offered for the best appearing uniformed fire company or department with less than 25 men with or without music, so a third prize was offered in the first category and this $35 prize was given to the Irishtown Fire Company. Their musical accompaniment was the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps of Taneytown.

The $35 prize for the best appearing organization other than a fire company, with or without music, went to the Hanover Amvets Drill team of Post 22. The prize of $35 for the best appearing Ladies Auxiliary was received by the new Windsor unit, the only one appearing in the parade. The $20 offered for second prize for Ladies Auxiliaries was therefore divided equally among the local Boy Scout Troop and the local Cub Pack No. 84.

The best appearing band prize of $75 went to Dallastown and the second prize of $50 to the Westminster Municipal band. Fifteen dollars for the best appearing fire apparatus went to the Westminster Fire Company and $15 for the company coming the farthest distance, which was unintentionally omitted from the invitations, went to Shepherds-town, W. Va., company.

Competition Close
Lt. Charles Pink, commander of Co. E, National Guard, Hanover, Thomas C. McSherry and Paul R. Snyder served as judges and made a special note that all of the prize winning units were very close in point judging.

Each of the three divisions of the parade was led by mounted marshals. The first division participants included the Littlestown Senior High School Blue Band, under the direction of Paul A. Harner, which provided the entertainment on the carnival grounds last evening; also W. Clarence Sheely, judge of the the district courts as grand marshal; Burgess Elmer G.
